Chapter 144: God's Domain

With his ascension to true godhood, Sung Jin-Woo unlocked a divine skill befitting his newfound title: God's Domain. This ability was a testament to his absolute dominance over the multiverse, solidifying his position as the most powerful being within creation.

God's Domain: The Divine Authority

1. Scope of Influence:

The skill encompassed the entire multiverse, including realms where his clones resided.

Even the deepest corners of the Abyss fell under its influence, ensuring no enemy or threat could escape its reach.

2. Effects on Enemies:

Nerf to Enemies: All targets within the domain faced a crippling debuff of -200% to their power, agility, and mana.

Their abilities were suppressed to the point of near uselessness, reducing even the mightiest of opponents to mere shadows of their former selves.

Minimized Senses: The domain clouded their perception, blinding them to their surroundings and crippling their ability to react.

Time itself seemed to warp for them, as their reactions lagged and their movements became sluggish.

3. Effects on Allies:

Buff to Troops and Allies: Every soldier, shadow, and ally under Sung Jin-Woo’s command gained a 200% increase in power, agility, and mana.

Their speed became blinding, their strikes devastating, and their spells limitless.

This ensured that his forces operated at their peak, overwhelming any opposition effortlessly.

4. The Divine Barrier:

The skill erected an impenetrable barrier around the domain, preventing external interference.

This barrier was both physical and metaphysical, capable of blocking physical invasions, magical intrusions, and even divine interference.

It isolated the battlefield, ensuring that the fight unfolded solely on Sung Jin-Woo’s terms.

God’s Domain: Tactical Advantages

1. Total Control:

The domain ensured Sung Jin-Woo's absolute supremacy in any encounter.

Enemies were stripped of their strength and senses, while his forces surged with divine might.

2. Strategic Dominance:

By minimizing the senses of his foes, Sung Jin-Woo rendered them vulnerable to ambushes and coordinated assaults.

The divine barrier allowed him to dictate the flow of battle, trapping enemies within an inescapable arena.

3. A Realm of Shadows:

Within the domain, the environment warped to reflect Sung Jin-Woo’s essence, engulfing everything in an eternal twilight.

Shadows extended endlessly, giving his forces unlimited mobility and tactical flexibility.

The Multiverse Under His Reign

The activation of God’s Domain sent ripples through the multiverse, a divine proclamation of Sung Jin-Woo’s supremacy. Clones stationed in distant realms felt its empowering effects, while enemies across the Abyss shuddered under its oppressive weight.

The Divine Triad, already the apex of existence, now had a member whose very presence redefined the balance of power.

As the God of Shadows and Life, Sung Jin-Woo stood unmatched, wielding a skill that not only turned the tide of battle but shaped the very fabric of the multiverse. God’s Domain was not just an ability—it was a manifestation of his will, a testament to his ascension, and a reminder to all realms of who reigned supreme.